

Wersja angielska / English version

When Reason Screams NO and Intuition Screams YES

by Vtec Janus

Wrenched out of his life by WWII, Stanley escapes from certain death. His wartime experience leads to a potentially fatal gangrene of the legs. Surviving against the odds, Stanley tells his story to his grandson, Vtec – reflecting on his experiences, struggles, faith, and triumph to living his deepest desires. Related in a gripping narrative which motivates and inspires those who browse its pages. The style is unpretentious, conversational, and accessible – leaving readers to reflect on their own circumstances and choices.

www.vtecjanus.com/book